Historical Perspective

An important town during Akbar's rule, it is located near the Bidkiar Lake. The town is said to have been founded by Yudhishtira in celebration of the Pandavas' victory in the Mahabharata. It was first known as Kapisthala, or Abode of Monkeys, and is the birth place of the monkey god Hanuman. A temple in memory of Hanuman's mother, Anjana, is built here.

The Site of Battle Between Razia Sultan and Delhi Forces

A fierce battle between Razia Sultan (Iltutmish's successor) and the rebel forces of Delhi, was fought here. She is said to be buried here, although her tomb is also to be found in Delhi. There is also a mosque near her tomb. The Emperor Akbar renovated this town and built a fort, and after the third battle of Panipat the region came under the rule of Bhair Desu Singh, a Sikh leader, whose palace has now been converted into a police station and overlooks the lake.

The Main Attractions

The Phelgu tank is a watery and holy site in honour of Rishi Phelgu who meditated here, and the Pundri tank dates back to the Mahabharata period. A few temples are also scattered around, like the Saraswati temple, Kapil Muni temples and Baba Narayan Das temple. The tombs of Shah Wilayat, Sheikh Shihabuddin, Shah Kamal and Bidkiyar Lake itself are worth a look.

Brick Temples

Going by legend, a king called Shalivahana ruled this area in the 7th century AD. He was cursed that he would die during the night, but by a stroke of luck he touched the earth where the temple now stands. The curse was revoked, and the king's happiness knew no boundaries. So he gave orders for five temples to be built, out of which only two stand now.

One of them must have originally stood on a terrace but is now half buried under a mound of earth. Both temples follow the Ajanta-Ellora pattern of a rock cut facade. Constructed from carved bricks, the highest point culminates in a shikara (pinnacle) and is joined in a beehive manner.

Placement & Careers

NIILM University continuously carries on extensive research through detailed interactions with CEO's/Managers of large and small industries, Multi National Corporates and major associations like CII, AIIIMA, FICCI, PHD and local chambers of commerce to find out what gets students good jobs. The research has thrown up the following

• Life Skills

An interesting factor that our research has shown is that pure academic skills, alone, are not enough to get students good jobs. Employers are looking for Motivation, Sincerity, Team spirit, Hard work and Reliability apart from leadership qualities and entrepreneurial mind set.

Companies want their potential employees to have a pleasing personality, good communication skills, patience, tolerance, appreciation, tact, efficiency, literacy, awareness. These essentials are what we term as "Life Skills" taught as a compulsory subject during every semester to all our students in all our colleges through courses on - 'SELS' – Strategic Entrepreneurial Leadership Skills' and 'PCC-Personal and Corporate Communications' among others.

• University Branding – a key to getting and retaining jobs

Branding is applicable not just to consumer products. A University Brand like NIILM brings instant awareness in the minds of public and HR Managers about your perceived qualities and abilities.

In India there are realistically atleast, 500 applicants for every good job available. The process, of short-listing the candidates to call for interview is quite a difficult one. To shortlist best 25 out of the 500 is highly dependent on the HR Managers or potential employers recall of your University name and quality. There are about 3500 engineering schools and 1400 management schools in the country. NIILM University's branding through its A+ quality, and its positioning as one of the top most leading University in the country automatically ensures that our students will be short-listed and called for the interview. The NIILM University nametag opens many many doors for potentially great jobs.

• Good Internships - Important for final Placements

NIILM University has a quarterly system wherein the student does three quarters of academics and one quarter of Field Training and Internships. NIILM University is thus able to place its students with industries throughout the year for on-the-job learning. This round the year internships and placements is well appreciated by the industry who take our students through out the year.

At NIILM, every member of the faculty and staff works closely with industry to get our students the best jobs (interim and final) that are in line with their skills.

At NIILM getting our students great jobs is a responsibility that we take very seriously. It is our raison d'être.

We recognize that one of the primary responsibilities of a professional educational institution is to build strong links with industry, commerce, arts, cultural bodies and other professions to ensure that the talents and skills of individual students are sharpened and their full potential is realised and rewarded by the world of practice.

Career Guidance Cell: Defining Directions

Today there is a great need to guide and create awareness among students about the changing world scenario, its impact on the Indian economy and on job opportunities. This need goes far beyond the NU centres and NU has thus set up an independent Career Guidance Cell (CGC). The CGC keeps itself updated with the latest international and national industry trends and the changing market scenario. CGC gives guidance to students irrespective of whether they wish to join NU or not.

CGC services schools across the country absolutely free :

Presentations to outgoing students about the choices for global careers

We recognize that one of the primary responsibilities of a professional educational institution is to build strong links with industry, commerce, arts, cultural bodies and other professions to ensure that the talents and skills of individual students are sharpened and their full potential is realised and rewarded by the world of practice.

Career Guidance Advisory Council

CGAC of NIILM University is an expert body consisting of eminent professionals from various career fields. These consist of international and national level names in various fields who are also prospective employers for the student body. They meet the student body from time to time and advice them regarding career decisions.

Career Planning & Placement Cell (CPPC): Looking Ahead

There are no shortcuts to success. Therefore, we believe in beginning early to plan, guide and provide direction to the career path of all our students. Our robust and proactive-CPPC works in coordination with the students inculcating in them a positive approach to work and providing them the solid backup of resources, so that they may acquire the necessary skills and vision to excel in their dream job.

The Career Planning & Placement Cell continuously invites organizations to visit its campus by way of career fairs and pre-placement talks. This provides students an opportunity to learn more about recruiting organizations and meet some of their key employees. This process makes a powerful and long lasting impact by exposing students to highly qualified professionals.

Interaction with Industry

CPPC assists students in developing an awareness of cutting-edge careers by organising guest lectures, panel discussions, conferences and workshops from time to time. In addition, NIILM University has strong links with prominent industrial groups which generate valuable synergy between students and corporate organizations. The University organizes a numerous industrial visits and field trips to students of various disciplines.

By the Students.. For the Students

Higher Education has never been and will never be purely about gaining a qualification. Apart from enriching knowledge and skill in a chosen discipline learning is greatly concerned with building a positive attitude and a set of values that you as a person and as a professional will need throughout your life.

providing you the courage of conviction to contribute to the development of others around you.

It is with this philosophy that we encourage the formation of student groups and ensembles woven around a common area of interest and debate. Independent creative action is respected and encouraged and the University spares no effort in supporting your initiative to the fullest.
